LUCKNOW: it became a matter of pride for Lucknowites to see two women piloting the train on the priority section, When the Lucknow Metro first chugg down the elevated corridor on Kanpur Road for trials on Thursday.

It is a conscious decision by the Lucknow Metro Rail Corporation (LMRC) to give the opportunity to women so that they get a chance to prove their mettle before public in handling high-tech Metro trains.

They have undergone rigorous training, both at the Centre of Excellence of LMRC and hands-on training at the Delhi Metro Rail Corporation," LMRC MD Kumar Keshav tell TOI.

"We have chosen two women operators to drived the Metro train before the CM and public for the first time. Our women train operators is so confident and excited to drive it that they wished to take lead in the trials.

He added that "LMRC was a progressive and coherent organization which believes in giving opportunities to both boys and girls".

NEW DELHI: A four-year-old girl, Nafisa, was found crying sitting on a pavement by a beat constable in west Delhi's Mianwali Nagar around 4pm on Wednesday and reunited with her parents after an intensive search operation.

A team led by SHO Mianwali Nagar, Yashveer Singh, was formed to track down the girl's father. The policemen scanned more than 100 houses in In der Enclave to find her parents as the only clue they had was her father's name -Laddoo. They finally met her father, a labourer, in Jwalapuri and handed her over to him. The girl was playing outside her house while her mother was busy with household chores. The child boarded a vegetable cart and reached Inder Enclave where she realised she was lost.
